

Several months ago I contacted three different dentists to have a consultation with them to discuss my particular case. I had over the years become uncomfortable smiling because I didn't want my front teeth showing. This was very difficult emotionally for me over time because when I was younger everyone would comment on what a nice smile I had.

A reliable individual in the dentistry field who had some knowledge of my particular problems with my teeth gave me three names of dentists that he felt are very good in the Louisville area. Dr. Schaefer and his staff were one of them. I was very impressed with the professionalism and friendliness of his office. I was very nervous about the step I was taking, though I knew I needed the work done for many years. Over the years I had become very frightened of the dentist office. I discussed this with Dr. Schaefer and he was very sympathetic and assured me that he would make the process as easy and comfortable as possible. After my consultation meeting with Dr. Schaefer he followed up by sending photos to my home that I was able to review with my husband, and it only confirmed our feelings that something needed to be done no matter what. I selected Dr. Schaefer because he made me feel that he was truly the best to do the job! Dr. Schaefer has selected very knowledgeable dental assistants to work with him. Dawn has the knowledge along with the keen eye for detail. She and Dr. Schaefer work very well together because they discuss things as they go and value each others' opinions to make sure the job is done the very best it can be done. The staff gets along very well and makes the atmosphere a very enjoyable one when you are in a very anxious state of mind. They all have made me very comfortable - like I have been going there for years instead of months.

Now that I have had the work done for several months many people comment on my smile again. What a wonderful feeling. The moral of my story is I wish I had visited Dr. Schaefer's office five years ago instead of waiting so long.

Thanks to all of them I feel free to smile as big as I want now!
